AUTOMOBILE NEWS.

Dr. Kingsman returned Monday from a trip to Frederick in his new Paige-Detroit, and spoke very highly of the condition of the roads.

I. C. Barber and party had a very enjoyable trip through adjacent Maryland in his 1911 model Parry roadster. The roads were very dusty in some spots, but were not bad.

Henry Cunningham and party returned Sunday morning from an extended trip visiting New York, Atlantic City, and many places along the way. They were not able to remain in New York to see the Vanderbilt races, and left there Saturday morning. The trip back was without incident.

The Sims Motor Company reports the sale of a 1911 model 20 Haynes touring car to J. T. Enclis.

The Automobile Club will to-night hold a meeting of the board to determine what action they will take in reference to the proposed removal of the club's quarters to Randle Highlands.

The Motor Sales Company will unload their first shipment of 1911 model cars to-day. A toy tourney body "39" and a torpedo body "39" are included.

Mattingly's Ankle Better.

Frank Mattingly, left fielder for the Langdon team of the Sunday School League, is improving. Mattingly was playing with Ninth Street against the Machinists at Benning race track Saturday, and his ankle was broken during the first inning. He is at his home at Fourteenth and Irving streets, Brookland, D. C. It will be several weeks before he is able to get out.

WALTER JOHNSON HUMBLES YANKEES

Adds Four to Fan Record.

Put Out of Business.

New York, Oct. 3.--Walter Johnson, Washington's remarkable pitcher, was at his best to-day, and the Highlanders, minus Hal Chase, were subjected to a coast of whitewash at American League Park.

Johnson had wonderful speed, and almost perfect control, the New Yorkers at times resembling so many plumes as they stepped to the slaughter at the home plate. Behind their great boxman the visitors played a fine game in the field and also seemed confident of the result almost from the start. Johnson added four to his strikeout record.

Chase had a bruised finger on his left hand and was compelled to play the role of a bench manager. Walter filled his place at first in clever style. Big Jim Vaughn pitched runless ball for five innings, but in the sixth he made a wild throw that was directly responsible for the visitor's first out. Laporte was sent in to bat for him in that inning, which brought young Caldwell into the game.

But the latter was soon injured, and with one out and two men on bases, Hughes, who succeeded him, was touched up for a three-bagger, which put the game well out of the Highlanders' reach. The fine weather helped to attract nearly 4,000 fans to the scene of action.

Nationals Score in Sixth.

Washington broke the ice in the sixth. After Somerset had flied to Daniels, Schaefer scratched a hit to Gardner and raced to third on Vaughn's wild throw.

But Schaefer scooped home on Blair's passed ball. Ralston was third out on a pop to Knight.

Laporte, batting for Vaughn, sent a long fly to Ralston. Daniels bunted, but Somerset beat his slide into the initial bag, and Hemphill grounded to Cunningham.

Caldwell succeeded Vaughn on the slab in the seventh inning, and Almsmith promptly hit him for a single. Johnson hammered nothing but atmosphere. Lettvelt lined a terrific drive that struck Caldwell on the leg. The young pitcher, though hurt, threw the ball a trifle too late to second to force Almsmith, after which he gave way to Hughes, who had not had time to warm up. Hughes handed a ticket to Elberfeld, and the bases were filled. Hughes followed this up with a wild throw to catch Lettvelt napping, and Almsmith counted. Cunningham came to time then with a tremendous three-bagger to left, scoring Lettvelt and Elberfeld, but he was left, as Somerset and Schaefer fled out.

Yankees Draw a Blank.

Another blank was the Hillmen's lot in the last half. Walter fled to Ralston; Knight put up a foul for Elberfeld, and Gardner rolled one to Cunningham.

McBride began the eighth with a shot at Austin that was too hot to handle and three second. Then Hughes struck out three men in succession. The New Yorkers were easy victims in the last half.

The Nationals couldn't do any more with Hughes, and were quickly blanked in the ninth. Mitchell, batting for Hughes, began New York's half with a clean base hit to left, and Daniels followed with a base on balls. Hemphill followed to Somerset, and on Walter's liner to Elberfeld, Mitchell was doubled at second.

NOTES OF THE GAME.

Almsmith looks like a real catcher. Anybody who can handle Walter Johnson as skillfully as does this young fellow must have some stuff in him.

Johnson might have struck out a few more Yankees, but he didn't wish to set a season's record away out of gunshot for succeeding years.

The Highlanders had only one chance to escape a shutout. Walter should have made the circuit on his triple, but he floated between second and third. Even then he could have made it, but he halted, for some unknown reason, at third base.

Cunningham is the liveliest recruit the Nationals have shown here in a long while. What makes the fellow look so good is his ability to hammer the ball. If Cunningham has any batting weaknesses the pitchers have not yet discovered.

The Yankees were so busy figuring on how to spend their post-season series

ATHLETICS TRIM RED SOX.

Dyger Holds Boston Safe at All Times--Score, 8 to 5.

Philadelphia, Oct. 3.--The Philadelphia team won the final game from Boston to-day, 8 to 5. Outside of the second inning, when he was hit for two triples and a double, Dyger had the Bostonians at bay.

Either Jack Quinn or Jack Warhop will be chased against the Nationals to-morrow in an effort to make an even split with McAleer on the concluding series here. New York needs the game badly before invading Shibe Park, as the Tigers are practically tied for second place again.

GIANTS VANQUISH DOVES.

Win in Tenth on Wilson's Double and Crandall's Single.

Boston, Oct. 3.--The Giants trimmed the Doves again to-day, but were forced to go ten innings before they put the winning run over, Crandall doing the trick with a single, following Wilson's double, two being out at the time. The Boston team gained an early lead and maintained it until the eighth inning when Brown went to pieces and the visitors tied the score.

Georgetown A. C. Wins.

For the second time this season the Seaton A. C. met defeat at the hands of the Georgetown Athletic Club on McDevitt's Field yesterday. The feature of the game was the pitching of Beach for the winners, who had seventeen strike-outs to his credit. Home runs by Burke and Hillery helped in the scoring, men being on bases when each hit was made.

Golden Joins Preps.

The Georgetown Prep football squad received a boost yesterday afternoon when Golden, last year's star half back, returned to practice. The big fellow was the most consistent ground-gainer for the embryos last season, and his presence in the back field this year will mean much to the Blue and Gray lads, making a great running mate to Marum, who is playing a fast game at half this season.

The youngsters at the hilltop are working hard these days, and the early squad, which was very discouraging, has developed into more than thirty lucky candidates, with whom Capt. Larkin expects to make a fight for the scholastic championship of the district.
